

University of Rhode Island DigitalCommons@URI

Symposium Proposals

3rd Annual LGBT Symposium [1997]

1996

Bisexuality Symposium Proposal

Rebecca McCrorie

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.uri.edu/symposium_proposals

Recommended Citation

McCrorie, Rebecca, "Bisexuality Symposium Proposal" (1996). Symposium Proposals. Paper 28.

https://digitalcommons.uri.edu/symposium_proposals/28https://digitalcommons.uri.edu/symposium_proposals/28

This Proposal is brought to you for free and open access by the 3rd Annual LGBT Symposium [1997] at DigitalCommons@URI. It has been accepted for inclusion in Symposium Proposals by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@URI. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@etal.uri.edu.

Return-Path: <R.McCrorie@MAIL1.REMOTE.UVA.NL>
Date: Thu, 28 Nov 1996 15:47:50 +0100 (MET)
X-Sender: 9677151@mail.uva.nl
To: hnic7063@uriacc.uri.edu
From: Rebecca <R.McCrorie@mail.uva.nl>
Subject: symposium

Holly,

i wanted to drop a message to you from amsterdam about the symposium. i would be interested in helping this semester to make it a success. i don't yet know what my schedule will be like next semester, but i will volunteer as much as i can.

next issue: i would like to submit a paper for the symposium. for my final project here in amsterdam i am looking at bisexual political activity. tangential to this issue i am also examining bisexual identity in the netherlands and biphobia. due to the broad nature of the topic, and short amount of time that i have to prepare it, my final analysis will be superficial. however it is the first work of its kind to be done in the netherlands. i hope that it will provide a good overview of the situation for bisexual people in the netherlands.

if this topic seems to go with the theme this year, and i hope that you will find it relevant and interesting. the final paper is not yet completed, but will be by December 13. i can e-mail a copy of it to you if that is what is required. let me know what you need for this to be official or to help you out.

i also wouldn't mind doing a proposal to investigate sexuality in the greek system. i was active in a sorority on campus for some time; am considering going back to it; and would be interested in working with someone or doing a project on my own. do you know how i could do that and get credit? let me know what you think.

i hope your semester is going well and that the symposium is coming together.

hope to hear from you soon...

Rebecca McCrorie